- Information Puppy flights are scheduled by POMSKIES.COM. Every effort will be made to accommodate your preferences regarding days and times of flights.
- Your puppy will be flown to the nearest international airport or the international airport of your choosing. Please provide us with, and be prepared to travel to, an alternate airport if necessary.
- Please allow approximately 7 to 14 days from receipt of your paperwork and full payment for your puppy to arrive.

- We will make every attempt to deliver your new puppy as quickly as possible, but events beyond our control (such as those described below) may delay your puppy's arrival. Your puppy's flight information will be emailed, typically 24 to 48 hours prior to the flight, to the email address provided at the time of purchase.
- We will also call you to verbally review the pick-up process. All scheduled flights are tentative as the airlines occasionally implement heat or cold embargoes due to weather extremes. Embargoes at any airport along the flight route including the origin, destination, and any connections may delay the flight. Temperature embargoes were created for the health and safety of every pet and are beyond our control. If a prolonged embargo affects the delivery of your new puppy, we will make alternate delivery arrangements. Additional fees may apply for alternate delivery options.
- We strongly recommend that you call the airline before picking up your puppy to confirm that the flight is on schedule. Please understand that our first priority will always be the health and well-being of your puppy.
- We will not ship a puppy against the recommendations of the airline, the Seller, or the veterinarian of record.

Important Information for New Puppy Parents

- Vaccinations and Vet Visits Your puppy comes to you up to date on all vaccinations. No vaccinations should be given within the first 2 weeks of the puppy's arrival at your home. The initial visit is for a Wellness Exam only and any vaccinations administered at that time will void your 5 Year Guarantee. Our veterinarians highly recommend that puppies relocated from the Seller's home and transported to a new environment should be given at least 2 weeks to acclimate to their new environment before they are given any additional vaccinations. Your puppy will be seen by a licensed veterinarian 24 to 48 hours before traveling to you. Prior to transporting your puppy, we will be provided with an extensive examination report from the veterinarian indicating your puppy is healthy and able to travel. At the time of your wellness exam, if your veterinarian has any concerns or differences in exam results from the Seller's veterinarian, he/she should call our Customer Care department at 757-810-3461 for further assistance. If a vaccination sheet did not accompany your puppy, please call or email Customer Care at 757-810-3461 or pomskies.com@aol.com for a copy. Please note that we do not cover veterinarian bills. Any treatments, vaccinations, x-rays, or testing performed by your veterinarian will not be covered. Please note that if your puppy was ever vaccinated with Bordetella, he/she should not be re-vaccinated with it until his/her annual visit. This is because Bordetella is a live virus, and re-vaccinating can cause pneumonia, kennel cough, or even death.

Guidelines for New Puppy Parents

- There are several issues that may occur with your new puppy due to the change in environment and climate. You do not need to panic; just follow these instructions. If you still feel your puppy may have a more serious problem, please call your veterinarian. Colds On a rare occasion, your puppy may exhibit a slight cough after travel. The majority of our veterinarians have found that administering Clavamox will usually clear up this problem within the first week. Not Eating If your puppy is being finicky about eating, try adding a bit of water to his/her food. Please remember not to give your puppy milk or any table scraps, as they could be dangerous. Food Pomskies.com recommends feeding your puppy premium dog foods such as Merrick, Taste Of The Wild, Orijen, Victor, or other high quality grain free foods. We do not recommend that you feed your puppy any brands such as Purina or other lower quality food brands. You will receive a small bag of food with your puppy, if you choose to feed your puppy a different brand than what we have been feeding him/her, you will need to change it over slowly by gradually mixing in the new food. NutriCal or other high calorie puppy pastes are recommended for very small puppies to help prevent hypoglycemia.

- Points to Remember Schedule an appointment with your veterinarian for your puppy to be checked within the first 48 hours of your puppy's arrival. Until a puppy receives all of their vaccinations (at approximately 16 weeks of age), their immune system is not capable of fighting off all diseases, therefore, it is important that you do not socialize your puppy with any outside animals. Places that should be avoided include dog parks, pet stores, and pet supply stores. This does not mean that you should not take your puppy to the veterinarian's office, as routine checkups are important. Puppies should sleep approximately 18 hours a day, so do not be surprised if your puppy is not awake and playing all of the time. Be sure to purchase several size-appropriate toys for your puppy to chew on, we highly recommend Kong toys. Avoid rawhide's as these can cause choking and are hazardous to puppies, plus they do not digest well. Remember, the more safe toys you provide for your puppy to chew on, the less likely he/she will chew on other things like shoes, furniture, and electrical cords.
